About This Game

Blocksworld is a build-and-play system that brings the imaginative joy of toy blocks to your computer, allowing you to bring your digital creations to life! Build anything you can imagine with a diverse set of building blocks, colors, and textures, then program them to function with action commands. Cars, trucks, trains, airplanes, boats, submarines, space ships, robots, animals, dinosaurs, anything is possible!

Once you've created a world you're proud of, share it with other players in our community! Let people from around the world interact with the experience you've created, and browse worlds built by others to find more inspiration yourself! Watch as trends and memes rise and fall!

If you can imagine it, you can build it.
